Executive Biography

Kevin Frost

Vice President & General Manager
Consumer Personal Systems and Displays and Accessories
PS Global Business Unit
HP Inc.

Kevin Frost is the Vice President & General Manager of Consumer Personal Systems within the Personal Systems Global Business Unit. Frost's organization is responsible for the planning, development and execution of all consumer products including notebooks, desktops, displays, and accessories. The business represents a total of $11 billion in annual revenue for HP.

Kevin joined HP in 1990 to develop Compaq's first PageMarq laser printer. He then went on to develop the industry's first consumer notebook product line which has since grown into a multi-billion dollar business.

With almost 30 years of experience in the IT industry, Kevin has held numerous executive positions, serving commercial and consumer customers, across multiple geographies within HP. Most recently, Kevin managed HP's Consumer Volume & Premium HW Business, responsible for delivering quality time-to-market Volume Notebooks and Desktops for Consumer and Small Office Home Office (SOHO) markets worldwide.

Before joining Compaq, Kevin held management positions at Motorola and QMS.

Kevin holds a bachelor of Electrical Engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology and an MBA from the University of Houston.
